Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

I. Species disclosed at page 4, lines 20-21; resource information are provided on the first page.

II. Species disclosed at page 4, lines 21-22; resource information that are provided but are not provided on a first page.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is also required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

III Claims 1-16, 35, 38, 39, 44, 45, 50, 52, 53, 56, 59, 60, 61, 63, drawn to communication of a system having a computer and a printer, classified in class 358, subclass 1.15.

IIII Claims 21-34, 36, 37, 42-43, 46, 47, 48, 49, 58, 62, drawn to a computer classified in class 708, subclass 100.

IIIII Claims 17-20, 40, 41, 51, 54, 55, 57, 64, drawn to printer, classified in class 347, subclass 111.

3. Inventions IIII and IIIII are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, printer has separate utility such as printing for a digital camera. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Inventions III and IIII are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the detail in the subcombination claim 36 recites annotate page description language and job control language instruction data with resource information which is not recited in combination claim 52. The subcombination has separate utility such as receiving data from Internet.

5. Inventions III and IIII are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the detail in the subcombination claim 40 recites processor being arranged such that the schedule of resources includes changing the order of operation of tasks related to the printer printing a document data which is not recited in combination claim 52. The subcombination has separate utility such as printing for a digital camera.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
